

ASTE 2012 Ning Network

Ning is a social networking site where groups of people can interact in a number of ways, including forums, photos, videos, and other options as the site expands.

Supported browsers include Firefox 5 and 6, Internet Explorer 8 and 9, Safari 4 and 5, and Google Chrome. If you use a browser not in this list, some of the features of the network may not work correctly.

Joining is free, although you will see ads on the network. If you choose to purchase an option to create your own network, the three different plans are described at <http://www.ning.com/compareplans>.

To join the ASTE 2012 Ning, visit the following URL: <http://inspiredimpact.ning.com>
If you are already a member of another Ning, sign in (right side of the screen). If you have not previously joined a Ning, use the Sign Up link (just above the Sign In link). If you opt to Sign Up, you'll see a screen similar to this one:

About ASTE 2012 Credit Course

Primarily for participants of the UAA Credit Course, but we welcome anyone who would like to discuss aspects of the ASTE 2012 Conference!

You will be asked to complete a profile so that other ASTE 2012 members can learn more about you. You'll also have the opportunity to upload a photo or an avatar if you choose. But if you opt to not do this, I get to choose the image next to your name :)

After you've completed the sign-in process, you will be taken to your personal page that will look something like this:

The Forum is divided into categories, which are listed down the left side of the screen. There is a category for each Special Interest Group (SIG), as well as other topics you may want to use. Here you'll either start a discussion or respond to someone else's discussion. When starting a discussion, please use a descriptive title, and when responding, please do not begin a new discussion thread; simply hit Reply.

Articles are available in the Course Articles category, each under their own Discussion. This is where you will discuss the articles. Click on the Course Articles title and then choose an Article Discussion to which you'll either start a discussion or respond to someone else's discussion. When starting a discussion, please use a descriptive title, and when responding, please do not begin a new discussion thread; simply hit Reply.

You will be able to see who started a thread, how many replies there have been, who replied last, and how long ago.

You are free to delete your own posts, but not those belonging to anyone else.

Notice that there is a category for Ning-related tips, tricks, and troubles! You can use this category to get help or email me. tammy.morris@inspiredimpact.biz

You can also choose to set up a group for discussion. If you would like to discuss issues with a particular group, use the Groups tab to Create a Group.

I have found it very convenient to "Follow" discussion threads. If you click the Follow option at the bottom, you will receive an email when someone posts or replies to that particular discussion. You will need to do this for each discussion you want to follow with email notifications.

Feel free to upload Photos and Videos to our ASTE 2012 Ning Network!! (Be sure you have proper permission first!)

Watch for notices from me on the Main Page of the Ning Network. I will also broadcast messages via email. Be sure you regularly check the email account you use to sign up for your Ning account. Also, make sure you can receive emails from my address.
